STANDARD TERMS OF PURCHASE

1. STL Digital Limited ("STLD") hereby mentions its standard terms of purchase for products and services ("Standard Terms of Purchase") sourced from the Seller in whose name this purchase order ("PO") is being issued ("Seller") in connection with and for agreements concluded with their clients or for their purpose, put an order to the Seller. These terms and conditions shall form part of and apply to all the transactions relating to any procurement of products and/or services mentioned herein. These terms are in addition to the commercial terms, delivery related terms etc. contained in this purchase order preceding the Standard Terms of Purchase. In case these Standard Terms of Purchase contradict the special terms and conditions contained in the PO, the special terms and conditions shall prevail. In the event a contract is entered into between STLD and the Seller, this PO shall be governed by the terms and conditions of such contract, and in the event of a conflict, the terms of the contract shall supersede the terms of this PO.
2. The terms and conditions of this PO shall be binding on the Seller, upon Seller's acceptance of the same in writing. Seller shall have deemed to accept this PO if the Seller fails to communicate acceptance within 3 days from the date of receipt of Purchase Order. All the prices mentioned in this PO are denominated in Indian rupees, unless expressly mentioned in a different currency denomination.
3. The Seller supplying any products to STLD shall comply with the bill of quantities and technical specifications of the products laid down in the PO. Any hardware or software, as the case may be, required to achieve the complete functionality of the product supplied by the Seller shall also be deemed to be included in the scope of the Seller. It is for the Seller to previously inform the STLD of any Service nonconforming to the said requirements. Unless with STLD's prior approval, no acceptance can be vested in the case of any non-conforming Service. Any change made to the Services (as well as to the Services as to the procedures, and the changing of the production site's location) must be subject to the STLD's approval. In case the Seller is providing services, then the Seller shall comply with the scope of work mentioned in the PO and also shall be solely responsible for completing all implied sub-tasks required for execution of such services. STLD shall reject the products/ services which do not comply with technical specifications/ scope of work agreed between Seller and STLD.
4. This PO is governed by the laws in force in India. While execution of its deliverables under this PO, the Seller shall ensure complete compliance with all applicable laws in force in the country of incorporation and country(ies) of operation of the Seller. Seller supplying Products shall also comply with laws in force in the country of manufacture or country(ies) of origin or country(ies) of shipment of such products. In case the products supplied are subject to any export control laws in the country of origin or country of manufacture or country of shipment or the country of export, Seller shall ensure complete compliance with them and Purchase shall, in no manner whatsoever, be liable for fulfilment of any such export control laws unless expressly agreed in writing. Any addition or modification to the statutory requirement during the subsistence of this PO shall be complied by the Seller at its own cost.
5. Seller supplying products to STLD shall make the delivery on delivery duty paid (DDP Incoterms 2020) basis at STLD designated location, unless otherwise specified. Packaging of products shall be made in accordance with the terms agreed with STLD. Upon delivery, STLD reserves the right to conduct open case inspection of boxes against the packaging list provided by the Seller. Any quantity discrepancy shall be rectified by the Seller within by next business day or such time as is notified by STLD. Further, at any time during the subsistence of this PO, if a Product is found to be damaged, defective or non-functional, then the same shall be replaced immediately by the Seller.
6. Seller shall provide complete documentation and manual for acceptable use of the products supplied.
7. Seller agrees that time is of essence for the execution of its obligations under this PO. In case of any delay in delivery by the Seller, STLD shall levy liquidated damages on the Seller @ 0.5% of PO value per week of delay. In case of delay or any other breach by the Seller, STLD may also have the work executed by any other vendor, at the sole cost and expense of the Seller.
8. Invoices shall contain the mandatory mentions, the purchase order number and the project, the description of the Service price per unit, and any potential taxes. Invoices are submitted to the accounting department and bear the name of the STLD and shall contain a banking account detail sent along with the first invoice. . Payments are done by bank transfer sixty (60) days from the date of invoice, except for a specific derogation on the Contract or the scope of work (Except for MSME as per the law of the land)
9. All payments will be made after set-off, withholding of any present or future taxes, levies, duties, charges, fees, deductions or withholding of any nature under this PO or any other PO issued to the Seller. No interest shall be payable on delayed payments. The Seller will not suspend performance of its obligations under this PO, if the STLD delays payments due to any breach by the Seller.
10. Any increase or decrease in applicable taxes during the scheduled delivery period shall be borne by the STLD. In case the supply of Products or performance of Services is delayed beyond the scheduled delivery period, any increase in applicable taxes shall be borne by the Seller and any decrease in applicable taxes shall be passed on to STLD.
11. Seller will not be entitled to charge the STLD for any costs, charges or expenses whatsoever that the Seller may incur as a result of the following events: (i) Detention of the products to the extent the same is attributable to the Seller; (ii) Demurrage on ships and port as a consequence of any act or omission of the Seller; (iii) Any special requirements or stipulations of the STLD accepted by the Seller; (iv) Any increase in duties, taxes on products or principle raw-material, freight, insurance or other charges or expenses from the date of PO.

mechanism(s) and/or additional agreement(s) with STLD. "Approved Jurisdiction" means a jurisdiction or sector as may be approved by Indian Law or applicable law where the Customer carries out its business to ensure adequate legal protections for personal data. When Seller acts as a data processor within the meaning of these regulations: Seller shall only proceed on documented instructions of the STLD or its Customer, it shall implement the appropriate technical and organizational measures to warrant the security of data and shall sign on first request the specific contract related to personal data processing as proposed by the STLD or its Customer. The Seller is advised that STLD implements processing of personal data to manage its relations with its own sellers. The data collected are essential for such management and will be analyzed, processed and transmitted by the concerned STLD departments. Data relating to the employees of the Seller may, for the communication of or operations involving such data, be transferred to companies in the STLD Group, their subcontractors or service providers located in countries that may or may not benefit from adequate levels of protection. Internal rules designed to organize cross-border flow of personal data intra-group and agreements aimed at organizing the transmission of such data to third companies have been developed in order to ensure adequate levels of protection. The right of the Seller's employees to query or/and access to their personal data can be exercised by writing to the IT Department or by e-mailing the Data Privacy Officer at the following address: itsecurity@stl.tech. It's the Seller's responsibility to inform its employees of the contents of this clause. The obligations concerning data and system security notified by the STLD or its Customer are an integral part of this Agreement and are enforceable against the Seller on the grounds of compliance obligations.

25. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, except for the Seller's liability arising out of (i) Willful misconduct (ii) the death of, or personal injury to, any person caused due to the act or omission of the Seller (iii) infringement of IPR (iv) levy of statutory penalty (v) fraud, during or in the course of performance by the Seller of its obligations under this Agreement, the liability of the Seller under all claims and demands whatsoever under the Agreement shall not exceed hundred percent (100%) of the total price paid by the STLD which gave rise to the claim. Under no event shall either party be liable to the other party for any consequential, incidental, indirect, punitive or special damages, loss or expenses or for lost profits, business interruption, lost business or lost savings arising out of any claim or action under the PO, tort (including negligence) or otherwise. STLD shall not be liable for any direct damages arising out of any claim or action under the PO.

26. Unless mentioned otherwise, this PO shall come into force on the date of release of this PO and continue till all the transactions contemplated hereunder are completed by the Seller

27. Any dispute arising out of or in relation to this PO shall be subject referred to arbitration by an arbitrator mutually appointed by STLD and Seller. Arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 and the rules and amendments framed thereunder, as amended from time to time. The courts of competent jurisdiction in Bangalore shall have exclusive jurisdiction in relation to this PO.

28. Any term and conditions, which is held to be invalid or unenforceable for any reason, shall be ineffective to the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability only, without affecting in any manner the remaining provisions thereof.

29. STLD and Seller agree that this transaction is being executed on principle to principle basis and no joint venture, partnership or agency is intended to be created between the STLD and the Seller by virtue of entering into this transaction.

30. Seller hereby agrees that the Seller (including its nominees, representatives, agents, employees, directors and the like) shall maintain strict confidentiality in relation to the Confidential Information. "Confidential Information" means and includes (i) any information and data of STLD, its intellectual property, technology, trade secrets, know-how, finance, transactions or affairs of STLD or any of their respective representatives (whether conveyed in written, oral or in any other form and whether such information is furnished before, on or after the release of this PO), including but not limited to discoveries, ideas, concepts, operation and processes, business methods, business models, techniques, designs, specifications, drawings, blueprints, tracings, diagrams, models, samples, flow charts, data, computer programs, disks, diskettes, tapes, marketing plans, customer data and other technical, financial or commercial information, whether in tangible or intangible form; (ii) any information whatsoever concerning or relating to any dispute or claim arising out of or in connection with this PO, the resolution of such claim or dispute. Nothing in this Contract shall restrict any Party from disclosing information: (a) to the extent that such information is in the public domain other than by breach of this PO; (b) to the extent that such information is required to be disclosed by any applicable laws or any applicable regulatory requirements or by any regulatory body to whose jurisdiction the relevant STLD or Seller is subject or with whose instructions it is customary to comply; and in the event that the disclosure of information is to the detriment of the STLD and if it is legally possible to obtain a preventive order from a court preventing disclosure of such information, STLD shall be entitled to make efforts to prevent such disclosure, provided that the party required to disclose such information is not in breach of any applicable laws or orders of governmental authority; (c) in so far as it is disclosed to the employees, directors or professional advisers of any party including the associate companies of the STLD, provided that such party shall procure that such persons treat such information as confidential, or to the extent required to be disclosed on only a need to know basis; (d) to the extent that any of such information is/are later acquired by a party from a source not obligated to any other party hereto, or its associate companies, to keep such information confidential; (e) to the extent that any of such information was previously known or already in the lawful possession of a Party, prior to disclosure by any other Party hereto; and/or (f) to the extent that any information, materially similar to the information, shall have been independently developed by a Party without reference to any information furnished by any other Party hereto.

31. Seller shall not assign this PO or any rights hereunder to any other party without the prior written consent of the STLD.

32. Seller agrees to have read to the Sterlite Business Partner Code of Conduct and STLD Whistle Blower Policy available at: <https://stl.tech/code-of-conduct-and-policies/>

33. Any legal notice, demand or communication to the STLD shall be sent to the registered address mentioned above with a copy to legal.swsupport@stl.tech.

34. Seller agrees that the STLD reserves the right to use the services of a credit agency from time to time to obtain information concerning the Seller (and its Directors) in order to assess the Seller's credit worthiness.
